- Walk around your property and consider which areas you want to change, which plants you want to move, and which sections need repair.
- Inspect paths to ensure walkways are even as some stones will heave over the winter.
- Review garden books and magazines for inspiration.
- Research which plants, shrubs, and trees will grow best on your property. Keep in mind soil type, sun exposure, colour schemes, blooming times, and watering requirements.
- Purchase and plant bulbs in suitable locations on your grounds.
- Make a list of tasks that need completing. This may include: lawn and garden bed clean-up, weeding, pruning, fertilizing, mulching, shaping, transplanting, and more.
- Ensure you have all the tools you need to complete the work. This may include: gloves, fertilizer, wheelbarrow, hoe, shovel, pruners, hoses, saws, and more.
- Prune back seasonal grasses, perennials, plants, shrubs, and trees. Consider air flow, shape, and bud growth before cutting.
- Divide perennials and transplant into appropriate areas in your garden.
